Republican County Committee Meeting. The members of the Republican County Committee for Crawford county are requested to meet at the Court House in Meadville, on Tuesday, April 20, 1868 at 2 o'clock P.M., for the purpose of fixing the time of holding the Primary Meeting for the current year.

HENRY C. JOHNSON, Chairman

Varieties.

Two good composers wanted at this office immediately. Steady employment given.

Mrs E. L. Watson will speak at the Universal Church to-morrow (Sunday) evening, at half past seven o'clock.

An Albany telegram last Monday said, "The Senate had a bare quorum," which comes of Black Crook and White Fawn exhibitions.

A boy employed in Haight's paper mill lost a finger yesterday while working about the machinery. The wound was dressed by Drs. Mondy and Barr.

A young brood of foxes, five in number, were captured recently by a farmer, a short distance from Titusville. They have become the property of "Honest Jack," and are on exhibition at his menagerie.

Gen. Tom Thumb and wife, Commodore Nutt and his intended bride, Miss Minnie Warren, will give their first levee at Corinthian Hall on Monday evening. The programme will consist of songs, impersonations and dances— "Thumbs up."

A general militia bill has been passed that requires all able-bodied men under forty-five to pay one dollar annually in lieu of service, except in time of war or invasion—the funds to form a brigade fund, and each man who drills in a volunteer company is to receive $12 a year.

The Western Railroads are doing a pretty good business this spring, if the earnings of the Chicago and Northwestern Road may be taken as a sample. Its total earnings during the first week of April are set down at $25,425, an increase of $3,000 over the corresponding period of last year.

The heavy rain of Saturday night and Sunday morning, in Warren county, has galed the hearts of the lumbermen along the Allegheny River, as the water is high enough to carry the heaviest rafts to market. The majority of them are ready to "pull out," and have been for and have been for some time past.

The question of naming the new railroad station at the junction of the Buffalo, Corry and Oil Creek and the Lake Shore Road, was submitted to the citizens in that section last week, and resulted in adopting "Salem" as the name for the new station. An effort is to be made to change the name of "Brocton" to "Salem" on Erie.

The Tiocata Bee says "Two youths, aged eighteen and twenty years respectively, of poor but honest parents, recently embarked in the lumber trade near East Hickory. They raised about 3,000 feet of boards belonging to E. I. Johnson contrary to the law in such cases made and provided, floated them down the river to Franklin and sold out. They were captured and in default of bail were committed to jail."

It is now definitely announced that during the coming season a line of nine first class screw steamers will ply between Erie, Detroit, Chicago and Milwaukee, as the water line of the Philadelphia &amp; Erie &amp; Pittsburg Railroads. It is expected to get a cargo through from Chicago to Pittsburg in one week—about as rapidly as it went by rail all the way. The water part of the distance being some 1,000 miles, the cost of transportation will be decidedly in favor of the Erie route.

There is a screw steamer somewhere in regard to the will of "Artemus Ward." The bulk of his estate, according to the will, was to go to his mother, to be enjoyed by her during her life time, and after her death to be applied to the founding of an asylum for old and indigent prisoners. It is understood now that none of his property has been so transferred, and statements are made to the effect that neither the money he was known to have possessed nor any assets have come to light. Much ado was made about his members of the Savage Club, but there is a clear alliance under his deposit in bank. For three years previous to his death, Artemus Ward made a great deal of money, and he certainly must have been worth a round sum when he died. His English executors have been invited to show their hand."

A resolution was recently introduced into the New York Assembly granting the use of the bill to Commissioners Vanderveer. The Speaker ruled it out of order, whereupon Mr. Madison, of Brooklyn, rose to a question of privilege, and desired to ask if this was the "house that Vanderveer built?" A voice replied, "No, he purchased it."

HARVEST Slaughters.

Life is above all price; property is but in the balance in comparison with it. It is only for the highest crimes against society, that man can be destroyed by law of life. Life is above liberty, precious as the boon in Gilead as the burden of poverty; it is but a cheverie, with all the ill that flesh is heir to, if only life can be purchased and prolonged. But not only do all cling tenaciously to the slender thread of life with an inherent and unquenchable passion, but nothing so rends the sympathetic affections of human nature, as to blot out the light and hopes of families, as Death, when it smites father, mother, sister, brother or child from the circle of home. But death, attended with the cruelties of suffocation, magnifies the dread and intensifies the sorrow, which naturally attend its summons. And one cannot read the record of the railroad tragedies and slayings, of such frequent occurrences of late, without a chill, sickening feeling of horror. The victims of these accidents are legion, the maimed and wounded being enumerated with those who are killed outright. We cannot regard many of these railroad accidents in any other light than as murders and assassinations, willfully on the part of railroad corporations not to need or profit by the lessons they implant with such sullen warning. Among the victims of both the Anglo and the Port Jervis accidents, were leading railroad men and members of the press as if those classes were especially addressed by these starting Providences. Let us hope that the subject of the insecurity to life and limb of travelers will be incessantly agitated until every precaution shall be adopted which his man's ingenuity can devise or expense attain, or experience suggest to obviate the possibility of their occurrence. But it is not sufficient that a master of such vital importance to the whole community should be left to the voluntary vigilance of the press, or the discretion of railroad companies. The legislative power of the country should be invoked to enforce the rights of the public with the public needs in this respect. A board of rail road overseers should be created, a permanent, tried, board, composed of the most competent persons, whose chief duty shall be to investigate the causes of all railroad accidents, and to suggest, in their report to the legislature, or to those in their discretion, the remedies for it. In the majority of these accidents the direct result of the faulty construction of railroad tracks, bridges, switches or the bid or reckless management of trains. These railroad accidents need most frequently to be produced by collisions between trains or late, except a more judicious use of their engineers, conductors, &amp;c., and the use of telegraph lines, signals, &amp;c. seldom encounter obstructions either on the track or cross roads. But the greater danger lies now in a hazardous rate of speed, especially at dangerous points of road, and also in defective or broken or wheels, tires or rims. If the local supply of iron or steel used in Angora or Port Jervis would not to day have such terrible memories for us. It was neither the action of the heat or cold that caused the latter calamity but a miserably worthless rail, and an unusual rate of speed. But not alone are human beings buried down; a principle not only mangled torn and disfigured, but rotted nile, and consumed by it and time, past all identification of friends, and all because ears are buried in stone tires and built of wood, palied and rendered of the most infamable substance possible, whence they should be constructed of wrought iron.

General laws have been passed for chartering mining manufacturing quarrying water use, route, cemetery, charitable religious buildings, loan and various other companies and the like. It is thus been saved an enormous amount of work and it is possible that it may yet be made to relive the Legislature of the pressure of merely legal legislation, but nearly every attempt to pass such laws this last winter has been met with about resistance on the ground of iniquity or members have jumped up all over the House moving to exempt their counties from the legislation proposed, thus destroying the general character. General laws after very easy to frame, to the legislature, but it is found the most difficult task of the legislator to frame them so as to meet all cases.

Our Post Office Department have carefully considered and provided the facilities in which our people are interested and for which we feel under of obligation to them. The Postmaster General's pricing service, upon the Postmaster's own Frankfort, is perfectly qualified to consider the interest involved.

The Department, however, has hitherto, up to the present, received no remittance, made in order that it causes the mail matter going up the French Creek Valley, that arrives but in the afternoon by the J. &amp; W. Franklin, as well as by other routes, to lay in the Post Office here until the next morning at 10 o'clock. Under this late change, the duty is caused to fall in the latter part of the day, in the interim train the Post Office will be in the traveling train, the Philadelphia &amp; Erie Railroad, and the Atlantic &amp; Great Western Railroad.

Until this change, the Route Agent ran up in the evening after the mail matter referred to had reached this office and Oil City, and made one New York connection that evening and all New York connections of the next morning, in the way of public funds. Besides, the plan might operate and probably would to secure the education among a class of members of whom are of the very best of our native born fathers and mothers. It is intended to extend the project of the equalization of taxes to our soldiers, we trust that the public fund provisions of the bill will be embodied in the new law.
